HAVE FUN

Lantaw Native Floating Restaurant

A floating restaurant that serves affordable Filipino and Asian dishes. It's roughly 45 minutes away from the airport but the amazing views of the ocean and mangroves make up for the distance.

Must-try: Garlic buttered prawns, shrimps, buttered crabs, scallops, oysters, tuna 'panga' (grilled tuna jaw).

For adventurous eaters: Manok Bisaya (chicken cooked in coconut juice, coconut pieces, shrimp, squid diced fish and moringa leaves).

Casa Verde Cebu

This family-owned restaurant features a Spanish-inspired interior and prides itself on serving home-style American comfort food.

Must-try: Brian's Ribs (a huge slab of baked pork ribs with a sweet, tangy piquet sauce and rice, corn and carrots), Surf & Turf, Best Sampler (a collection of their best appetizers, bacon and cheese potato skins, fried cheese sticks, and buffalo wings, as well as three kinds of dip).

Matias BBQ

For those who want to try the Filipino street food, this open-air carinderia (roadside restaurant) is the go-to place for grilled skewers in Mandaue City.

Must-try: Cebu chorizo, chicken barbecue, liempo (grilled pork belly), chicken heart, and puso (rice wrapped in banana leaves).

Top of Cebu

Located atop the mountains of Busay, it offers a spectacular view of Cebu City and even Mandaue and Lapu-Lapu.

Must-try: Pochero de Cebu, crispy pata, and chicken pork adobo ni lola (lola is a Filipino term for grandmother), truffled mushroom pizza, seafood marinara pasta, and mango-kani salad.

Tightrope Coffee

Apart from their seasonal coffee menu, this café also serves sandwiches, tacos, pasta, and weekend brunch staples.

Must-try: Short rib rigatoni, grilled three-cheese sandwich, and the Tightrope breakfast (sausage, bacon, two eggs, toast, and beans)

House of Lechon

One of the best restaurants to try out Cebu's iconic roasted pig or lechon.

Must-try: Kinilaw fiesta Cebuana (wahoo fish cured in calamansi, vinegar, ginger, and other seasonings), pinakbet (mixed veggies steamed in shrimp paste), gambas ala concasse

For adventurous eaters: Lechon sisig (Filipino pork dish made from left over lechon), lechon paksiw, (chopped roast pork stewed in vinegar, liver sauce, and spices), ginabot (deep-fried pork intestine).

Tales and Feelings

A seven-table bohemian-inspired restaurant that redefines what a hole-in-the-wall can offer. It also offers a small but well curated selection of wine.

Must-try: Truffle cream pasta, miso-braised pork, deconstructed bruschetta with cream cheese and feta, and foie gras with squash and apples.

Tavolata

This trattoria from the Abaca Group serves hand-tossed pizzas and homemade pasta.

Must-try: Seafood pizza, lamb chops, and the warm chocolate torte.

Phat Pho

If you're in the mood for Vietnamese, Phat Pho offers bold flavours and fast noodle shop service.

Must-try: Pho special, summer rolls, and homemade fish cakes

Have fun

Bantayan Island

This island boasts white-sand beaches, stunning saltwater lagoons, and scenic eco-tourism sites. Activities you can enjoy include swimming, cliff diving, island-hopping, kayaking and even skydiving.

Kawasan Falls

This three-stage cascade of clear turquoise water is almost always part of any tourist's itinerary. It also offers an unparalleled canyoneering experience for visitors who are interested in climbing, floating, and exploring the canyons around Kawasan Falls all day long.

Scuba diving in Moalboal

Moalboal is one of the country's best dive sites, thanks to its diving claim to fame – the sardine run. It's truly a unique experience to dive alongside schools of thousands of small fish.

Have fun

Oslob whale shark watching

Another activity that's on the fishy side is snorkelling with the world's biggest fish - the whale sharks. They are locally called butanding and a typical encounter with them lasts around 30 minutes. Those who want to try this activity should follow these rules: no touching, no riding, no flash photography, and always keep at least six feet away from the sharks.

Sunset kayaking in Cordova

The idyllic municipality of Cordova offers tons of outdoor and water adventures including canoeing, stand-up paddle boarding, island hopping and camping. The most memorable, however, is sunset kayaking.

Cebu heritage walk

Its rich history and culture make downtown Cebu City the perfect playground for heritage enthusiasts. Be sure to visit Fort San Pedro, Plaza Independencia, Malacañang sa Sugbo, Magellan's Cross, Rajah Humabon monument, Cebu Metropolitan Cathedral, Cathedral Museum, and the 18th century Basilica del Sto. Niño (to pay homage to Cebu City's religious patron and also as the centre of the annual Sinulog Festival every January).
